

The International Trademark Association's Annual Meeting brings together over 10,000 professionals from various industries around the world for discussions and exchange of best practices in trademarks.