

Ogier named one of the Best Workplaces in Ireland for seventh time

News - 01/03/2024

Ogier in Ireland has been officially recognised as one of the Best Workplaces in Ireland in the Great Place to Work® Awards 2024 – making it the only Irish law firm included on the list.

It's the seventh year the firm has been named as a top Irish workplace, following direct feedback from employees provided in an extensive and anonymous survey about the workplace experience.

Managing partner John Hogan said: "We are extremely proud of our people and honoured to have been recognised yet again as a Great Place to Work® Ireland. After a year of change for the firm, in which we merged with global firm Ogier, we listened to our staff and maintained our company culture and ethos throughout. We are also humbled to be the only law firm in Ireland recognised on this list. A huge congratulations to all the winners and our fantastic Great Place to Work committee."

Cathal Divilly, CEO of Great Place to Work® Ireland, congratulated all the companies recognised by the awards and praised their dedication to fostering an environment where all employees can thrive.

"They have exceeded expectations in their dedication to their employees and cultivated a great workplace culture where everyone can be themselves and thrive at work," he said. "This achievement is not just a milestone but a reflection of their tireless efforts at crafting workplaces where talent not only flourishes, but also feels valued and empowered."

About Great Place to Work® and the assessment process

Great Place to Work® is the global authority on workplace culture. Since 1992, they have surveyed more than 100 million employees around the world and used those deep insights to define what makes a great workplace experience. It boils down to trust. Great Place to Work helps organisations quantify their culture and produce better business results by creating a high-trust work experience for all employees.

Their unparalleled benchmark data is used to recognise Great Place to Work-Certified™ companies and the Best Workplaces™ in the U.S. and more than 60 countries, including those on the 100 Best Companies to Work For® and World's Best lists published annually by Fortune. Everything they do is driven by the mission to build a better world by helping every organization become a Great Place to Work.
