Background and experience

Martín is part of Guernsey's property law team based in the UK. He joined Ogier from the real estate team of an international law firm based in the UK, where he advised developers and institutional investors on the purchase, development, sale and letting of real estate.

Martín has also acted for both landlords and tenants on the letting of office, retail, industrial and logistic space and a ferry and ports operator on the management and letting of its units.

Before moving to the UK Martín was part of the commercial property team in a firm in Dublin, Ireland where, among other things, he worked on the purchase and disposal of distressed real estate loan books, acted for receivers on the sale of real estate and banking institutions on the taking of security on property portfolios.

Martín first qualified in Argentina in 2002. He re-qualified and was admitted to the Roll of Solicitors in Ireland in 2012 and England and Wales in 2013.

Martín speaks English and Spanish and has a basic knowledge of Portuguese.
