Background and experience

Kasia is a macroeconomist by training and has substantial expertise in research and quantitative assessment. Her journey with sustainable investment started in 2013 at Legal & General Investment Management (LGIM) where she was employed to research long-term sustainability in the asset management investment themes. She also worked for several years as an ESG consultant for LGIM delivering research for the deployment of the Future World Fund, with a particular focus on climate change.

During her time at Institutional Shareholder Services, Kasia was an active member of the Asia Investor Group on Climate Change (AIGCC), the Hong Kong Green Finance Association and other Asia-based industry groups.

Kasia holds an MSc in International Economics from Poznan University of Economics and an MSc in Political Science from Aalborg Universitet.
