Background and experience

Ross has more than 20 years' experience in the offshore fiduciary services industry, working with a broad range of clients from multinational FTSE 100 companies to smaller private businesses, particularly in relation to the establishment and ongoing administration of a variety of offshore structures.

Prior to joining Ogier, Ross managed a corporate administration team providing services to corporate entities in various business sectors such as retail, real estate, biotech, healthcare, oil and gas, fintech and banking. Ross has previously co-presented online with Deloitte at Proshare and in the virtual lounge with the ESOP Centre.
