News - 02/11/2022

Diana Rodriguez has been promoted to senior associate in Ogier's Private Wealth team in Guernsey.

In her new position Diana will continue to advise trustees, beneficiaries and settlors on a wide range of contentious and non-contentious trust, foundation and private client matters.

Diana also has a particular interest in advising on pensions, having participated in the technical sub-committee of the Guernsey Association of Pension Providers, and advising charities.

Prior to qualifying as a lawyer, Diana worked for various international human rights organisations in Latin America and Europe. She holds degrees in politics and development from Cambridge University and the London School of Economics.

She is qualified as a solicitor (England and Wales) and has recently passed the Guernsey Bar exams and obtained the Certificat d'Etudes Juridiques Françaises et Normandie from the Université de Caen.

Global head of Private Wealth Matt Guthrie said: "This promotion is very well-deserved recognition for Diana, who has assumed a pivotal role in the Guernsey Private Wealth team. Her expertise in pensions and especially charities law is particularly valuable given recent changes in Guernsey charities law. We look forward to seeing Diana excel in the next stage of her career with us."
