

SFC FMCC climate-related risk deadline is fast approaching

News - 10/11/2022

The Securities and Futures Commission's enhanced standards deadline for large fund managers, and baseline standards deadline for all other fund managers is 20 November 2022.

Ogier Global's Sustainable Investment Consulting has received an increasing number of queries from both small and large fund managers impacted by the Securities and Futures Commission \(SFC\) requirements. Find out how we can help and get in touch for a 30-minute consultation today.

In the run-up to the deadline, we can support small fund managers (SFM) with:

- Reviewing relevance and materiality tests, processes and conclusions
- Where climate-related risks are deemed relevant and material, we can conduct a gap analysis of your baseline processes developed
- Where climate-related risks are deemed relevant and material and the manager is responsible for overall operations of the Fund (ROOF), we can conduct a gap analysis of your baseline disclosures
- We can provide access to an online climate-risk training course with a certificate of completion for your Board and management, specifically built for managers.

We can support large fund managers (LFM) with:

- Building on your baseline processes set in place since August 2022, and where climate-related risks are deemed relevant and material, we can conduct a gap analysis of your enhanced processes
- For ROOF managers, we can help review enhanced disclosures

- We can provide access to an online climate-risk training course with a certificate of completion for your Board and management, specifically built for managers.
