Jersey Limited Liability Partnerships versus United Kingdom Limited Liability Partnerships – which are better?

Introduction

The Jersey Limited Partnerships (Jersey) Law 2017 replaces the Limited Liability Partnerships (Jersey) Law 1997 from 1 August 2018. The new Law replaces the old framework to make the Jersey LLP more competitive and the vehicle of choice for local and international businesses.

The briefing looks at a comparison of Jersey and UK LLPs. The key advantages to using a Jersey limited liability partnership (JLLP) over a United Kingdom limited liability partnership (UK LLP) relate to tax, flexibility, accounting standards and requirements and the ability of a partner to the LLP to also be an employee of the LLP at the same time.

2. VAT/Goods and Services Tax

Fees not subject to Jersey Goods and Services Tax provided the LLP is registered as an international services entity.

LLP must register for VAT if the business' VAT taxable turnover is more than £85,000.

3. Inheritance Tax

There is no concept of inheritance tax in Jersey so Jersey resident partners of the LLP will not be subject to inheritance tax.
An interest in an LLP will normally be considered a non UK situs asset for inheritance tax purposes.

Assets of an LLP are treated as assets of its members for inheritance tax purposes.

An LLP is tax transparent for Jersey income tax purposes; no assessment is raised on the LLP itself, but the partners in an LLP are potentially assessable for tax in their own names.

However, non-Jersey resident partners in an LLP are not subject to Jersey tax other than in respect of certain Jersey source income, such that generally no Jersey tax will be payable by non-Jersey resident partners.

Profits and gains arising from the international activities of a non-resident partner are not subject to income tax in Jersey. For the purposes of

LLP members are taxed individually on their share of the profits and will each have to register with HMRC for Self-Assessment, file a tax return each year and pay income tax

4. Income Tax/Capital Gains Tax

that it is solvent now and will remain solvent until 12 months into the future considering the financial resources available to the LLP and the intentions of the partners who control the management of the LLP in respect of the management of the LLPs business. Any property withdrawn by a partner or former partner at any time when the LLP has not made a solvency statement in the 12 months immediately preceding the withdrawal shall be returned and if the property withdrawn was otherwise

Past and present members are liable to contribute to the assets of the LLP to the extent that they have agreed to do so with the other members in the LLP agreement. Any amounts withdrawn by a member in the two years before the start of the winding up can be clawed back if the member knew or out to have concluded that after the withdrawal and any withdrawals in contemplation at the time, there was no reasonable prospect of

6. Designated Partners

	No requirement for a designated partner. The Law requires the LLP to appoint a designated secretary to carry out certain administrative functions.	Must have at least two designated partners (or if less than two, all English LLP partners are deemed designated partners).

8. Disclosure of Partners

No requirement to file the LLP agreement with the Registrar. The names and addresses of the partners of the LLP must be disclosed to the Registrar in confidence and the names of the partners are not available to the public.

The LLP agreement does not need to be publicly filed but the members details must be disclosed in the incorporation documents.

members available for inspection by any LLP member without charge, or by any other person for a fee set by the Companies Registrar.

11. Accounting Standards

The LLP must keep accounting records and returns of the LLP that are sufficient to show and explain that the LLP's transactions and be such as to disclose with reasonable time accuracy at any time the financial position of the LLP at that time.

The LLP must prepare and file accounts in accordance with Part 15 of the Companies Act 2006.

Unless an LLP agreement requires otherwise, it is not necessary to appoint an auditor or have an LLP's accounts audited. An LLP must keep accounts, which may be drawn up in any currency, and must keep those accounting records for at least ten years. Any specified solvency statements must also be retained for the same period. No requirement to file accounts with any authority (unless the LLP is undertaking certain types of financial services business).

The LLP need not appoint an auditor if the designated members reasonably determine that audited accounts are unlikely to be required.
