

The RICS Cayman Islands Property & Construction Conference attracts over 200 professionals comprising surveyors, architects, contractors, bankers, legal advisors, realtors and developers. The fourth biennial event seeks to build on the outstanding success of the previous years which provided excellent knowledge-sharing and networking opportunities for all delegates.

Through interactive and informative sessions, the conference will focus on local, regional and global factors impacting the industry. Call it a boom or call it a bubble, it is no secret that the local real estate market has been on a steady incline and many want to know if it can be sustained.

Senior Associate Cline Glidden from the Cayman Local Legal Services team will attend this Ogier sponsored event. Please reach out to Cline if you would like to connect and visit the Ogier booth during the event.
