

The private wealth management sector connects people, positive causes and businesses around the world. Political and economic uncertainty, regulatory, technological and ethical topics are set to challenge the future prosperity of these connections.

The Jersey Finance Annual Private Wealth Conference, Building Better Futures, will explore how wealth management professionals can better support clients through these vital debates.

Expert speakers, including Ogier partner Sally Edwards, will examine how Jersey is connected to opportunities in key markets, the balance between socially responsible investing and profit, and regulation versus innovation. Broadcaster, Andrew Marr and leading author, Matthew Syed, will also take to the stage.

Please get in touch if you would like to arrange a meeting with Sally.
