

The series of virtual sessions offered during London International Disputes Week 2021 comes at a significant period for the UK legal sector, in the wake of the Covid-19 pandemic, post-Brexit and amid an uncertain global political environment.

Ogier Partner Brian Lacy will present during a session on May 12, 2021 when he joins a panel of leading experts to discuss the "The predicted rise of disputes in a pandemic-fulled recession".

To learn more about this session and to register, please visit this link.

To connect with Brian, please contact him via the details provided on the right.