

London International Disputes Week 2022 is an opportunity for dispute resolution professionals from around the globe to gather both in-person and virtually to discuss and debate the future of dispute resolution and London's place at the centre of that.

Ogier Partner William Jones joins a panel of experts on Day 1 of the conference titled "Pushing envelopes across borders: offshore interim relief in international fraud and asset chases" where he will discuss the latest developments in cross border fraud and asset tracing claims.

This panel will be available in-person and online.

If you would like to connect with Will, please do so via the links provided on the right. For more information on the event, visit the LIDW22 website here.