

Digital assets are generating significant market interest. As adoption accelerates and digital assets go mainstream across industries, they are now disrupting the entire financial market, driving changes in the financial ecosystem.

We are delighted to welcome Anthony Stevens (see bio below), Global Head of Product Innovation at Northern Trust, who will explain what digital assets are and how they now form part of the financial ecosystem.

The event is being held at Les Cotils on Thursday 3 November, 2022 commencing at 1230. Sandwiches and beverages will be provided. If you wish to attend the event, please register here.

Anthony Stevens bio

Anthony has worked in the financial services industry for over 18 years and joined Northern Trust in October 2007. He works within the Digital Assets and Financial Markets Group and manages the Product Innovation team which is responsible for developing new products, keeping the business up to date with technology changes in the both the financial and non-financial markets as well as looking to access new external technologies and services that will enhance clients investment management processes. Anthony and his team developed and released the first Private Equity blockchain product that supports Guernsey domiciled PE funds.
