

Ogier's Cayman Relocations team for HNWIs

Ogier's specialist relocations team have experience in all aspects of advising HNWIs and families on relocating to Cayman, including immigration, property, estates and corporate matters.

Our team works with tax advisers and onshore counsel on everything from pre-move planning to the immigration process and property matters, including advising on the suitable route to residency for each applicant's personal requirements.

With many decades experience in this specialist area, our offering is built upon absolute discretion and a one-stop-shop service that covers every element of relocation, including related corporate and advice on private wealth structures.

With our unique and longstanding network of contacts in the Cayman Islands, we can offer an exceptionally smooth process to clients and intermediaries.

5 things to know about Ogier's Cayman HNWI relocations team

Our team is led by managing partner James Bergstrom, a longstanding Cayman Attorney and a former President of the Caymanian Bar Association, and Cline Glidden, a former Government Minister who is now a qualified Attorney

We advise not just on the immigration process and residency requirements but also on real estate transactions – we have advised on one of the highest value real estate transactions in the Cayman Islands

Working with colleagues in our Private Wealth and Corporate teams, we can also advise on business relocations, and matters relating to Cayman law over probate and estates, including the drafting of Cayman wills

We have been advising in this area for many years, and have an unrivalled network of contacts within the Island to make the process as smooth and straight-forward as possible

Our team offers integrated legal and corporate administration services providing a one-stop shop for all your Cayman Islands services
