

Ogier in Luxembourg French Desk

Your Luxembourg lawyers dedicated to the French market

Our experienced team of Luxembourg legal experts provides practical, tailored advice to the French market. We support clients seeking to expand into new regional markets, combining our deep understanding of French business culture with a global perspective.

We are an international firm offering integrated legal and tax advice across investment funds, corporate matters, restructuring, private wealth, banking and finance and litigation services.

Our lawyers have been at the forefront of Luxembourg's rapidly evolving legal landscape since launching our local office in 2012. Globally, we have more than 1,200 professionals across key financial centres in European, Asian, Middle Eastern and US time zones.

A respected voice in the local market, we pride ourselves on our considerable cross-border expertise. We use precise terminology to get straight to the point – and we speak your language.

About our French Desk

Drafting and negotiation completed in a single language, saving on both time and the cost of translation

We use precise legal terminology and have the ability to provide considerations on comparative law

Our clients include French financial institutions, multinational companies, asset managers and family offices, as well as institutional investors

From cross-border investment structures to M&A, corporate restructuring, banking and finance expertise, plus integrated tax advice, our desk provides specialists with the international know-how and the necessary language skills

Our French Desk is comprised of native French speakers with a prior significant experience qualifying and practicing within France's legal sector, now fully dedicated to the practice of Luxembourg law

Established in 2012, our Luxembourg office now has more than 60 employees with nine legal partners

Our legal team is recognised among the best law firms in Luxembourg by all the leading directories, including Chambers and Partners, Legal 500, IFLR1000 and Leaders League

We take a multidisciplinary approach and work closely with colleagues from across our global network of 13 offices to provide seamless advice and an international perspective

Our Luxembourg team of market-leading lawyers are the trusted chosen advisers to clients based primarily in London, Continental Europe, East Asia and North and South America

Ogier is an award-winning firm that provides flexible, effective and commercial solutions for clients, with a culture centred on collaboration, diversity and respect
