

At a glance guide to Private equity and venture capital services

Regularly working on innovative and complex cross-border transactions, Ogier is a go-to firm for all aspects of the venture capital/private equity life cycle, renowned for our in-depth understanding and significant experience in fund establishment, investments and exits.

We have had a presence in Japan since 2008, and our industry-leading lawyers and corporate administration professionals can provide innovative, end-to-end solutions to meet each client's distinct set of regulatory and commercial demands.

We offer Japanese and English-language support to private equity and venture capital managers wishing to take advantage of Ogier's network and extensive experience in the funds industry.

With a global footprint of 12 offices – including five across Asia's leading financial centres – we are uniquely positioned to provide market insights and an overview of relevant regulatory changes. We can also offer wider access to the service providers best suited to our clients' objectives - all provided in an effective and timely manner.

We offer a full service from set-up to providing ongoing investor and fund services including independent directors, corporate secretary and regulatory services relating to CRS, FATCA and AML requirements.

5 things to know about our Private Equity and Venture Capital services

Ogier's global venture capital team regularly advises on the establishment of venture capital funds, early-stage and late-stage fundraising and realisation of investment through exit

Ogier's corporate administration business, Ogier Global, works with our partner-led legal teams specialising in all aspects of the structuring and establishment, governance, regulation and operation of private equity and venture capital funds

Our clients include the world's largest private equity firms and we also take pride in helping start-up sponsors work with their anchor investors to launch their first Cayman fund structure in parallel to their Japan domiciled fund

We have been involved in some of the most noteworthy private equity / venture capital deals completed in our jurisdictions, offering a global perspective to suit an international client base

Our depth of expertise across each of our jurisdictions, combined with our market-leading equity capital markets and M&A practices, means we can assist with both the structuring and execution of complex cross-border transactions
